Biological Psychiatry 2017 Travel Grants

A limited number of international travel grants are available to support meeting attendees coming from other African countries.

Travel grants will be available for:

1. Early career psychiatrists attending the clinical track of the meeting
2. Early career psychiatrists and basic scientists interested in attending the clinical track of the meeting and the symposium to be hosted by the Southern African Neuroscience Society (SANS), which will include an afternoon symposium on Psychiatric Genetics.

Application forms should include a statement of need that explains the impact or importance of attending the Biological Psychiatry Congress, a 2-page curriculum vitae, and a scientific abstract for oral or poster presentation.

Early career psychiatrists are particularly encouraged to apply.

Application deadline June 10.
